MEET THE SPEAKERS

Kristi L. Trail, P.E. - Executive Director of the Lake Pontchartrain Basin Foundation

David E. Dismukes, Ph.D.- Professor, Executive Director, and Director of Policy Analysis at the Center for Energy Studies, Louisiana State University

Ms. Trail is the Executive Director of the Lake Pontchartrain Basin Foundation, and has been since 2016. She earned her BS and MS in Civil & Environmental Engineering at Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge. Kristi is responsible for all aspects of governance and day-to-day operations for LPBF, including managing a $4 million budget, 13 member board of directors, 30 full- and part-time employees and contractors, and activities at two locations.

Prior to joining LPBF, Ms. Trail worked as an engineer in various capacities in the energy sector and as a private consultant.

She is active in the New Orleans community, serving on many non-profit boards including Parkway Partners, Preservation Resource Center of New Orleans, and the Audubon Area Zoning Association. She is also an active member of the Women's Professional Council of New Orleans. Additionally, she is a fellow of the Loyola University Institute of Politics (2005) and the Institute of Environmental Communications (2005).

She is a native of New Orleans & lives in uptown New Orleans with her husband and two children.

Mr. Dismukes is a Professor, Executive Director, and Director of Policy Analysis at the Center for Energy Studies, Louisiana State University. He also serves as a Professor in the Department of Environmental Sciences, and as the Director of the Coastal Marine Institute, both of which are in the College of the Coast and the Environment at LSU.

David's research interests are related to the analysis of economic, statistical, and public policy issues in energy and natural resources. Over the past 30 years, he has worked in consulting, academia, and government service.

David has been on the LSU faculty for over 24 years and has led a number of the Center's research efforts on energy, economic, and natural resource-related topics. He speaks regularly to professional, trade, and civic associations on important energy issues, trends, and topics. He serves in numerous advisory positions including serving on the National Petroleum Council, a federally chartered advisory arm to the U.S. Secretary of Energy. Dr. Dismukes received his M.S. and Ph.D. in economics from the Florida State University.
